

Florida Blue Foundation and FLC Award Health Literacy Grants for Fifth Year

This year's funding reflects a combination of new grants and renewal grants, allowing current programs to continue and build upon their success. "This initiative reflects the Florida Blue Foundation's true commitment to helping adult learners develop the skills they need to be knowledgeable health advocates for themselves and their children," said Greg Smith, executive director of FLC. "Thousands of Floridians have become more health literate through this initiative. Students are exercising more, eating healthier, learning to read medicine labels and communicate with their doctor; skills that can be truly life changing."
