

LINCS Launches Online Resource Center for Adult Learners

The site also shares resources for Spanish speakers and includes a “Find a Program” page in which users can search for higher learning or job opportunities. It is mobile-friendly, encouraging learners to stay active while on the go or at home.

The site is currently still in beta version. Future versions will include additional tools and features in order to promote higher levels of technology integration in adult education programs.